OKUMA ASKS FOR UNITED JAPAN

Japanese Premier Pleads for Union During Present International Crisis.

(Correspondence.)—A plea for a United Japan in the present international crisis was issued by Premier Count Okuma yesterday at a reunion of the Japanese press to which the foreign correspondents were likewise invited. More than any statesman in modern Japan Count Okuma sees power in the press. He is constantly taking newspapers and newspapermen into his confidence. That is the way he adopts to reach the people, and Okuma believes above all things that the day has come in Japan when the people must be talked to. He is ever striving to find the pulse of the public.

This was the second time Premier Okuma had spoken to journalists since he decided to remain in office. His object yesterday was to urge support for the new ministry and to emphasize the necessity of sacrifice for the welfare of the nation.

"In Germany," he declared, "we have an example of a nation that has shown her power of national unity." He went on: "Her militarism is undesirable, but the concerted effort of Germany constitutes her strength. Japan is now involved in a great international war, which is affecting the politics and thought of the whole world. Amidst this great struggle, Japan must maintain her position as a world power. In order to do this, we must unite our efforts, and we need sound leadership."

The policies of the reconstructed cabinet, the premier said, would be the same as the old. He was more than ever convinced that its policies were sound and well adapted to the needs of the time. From the very outset it had endeavored to effect reform in home politics. Unfortunately, a he thought, the manner in which Japanese elections are held is not ideal. This was due to the fact that the representative form of government was still new to the majority of the people.

The premier continued: "Happily the spread of modern education has improved matters considerably, and the nation is emerging from its old feudal ideas and usages. The struggle for mere political domination is petty. This is what some of the Latin-American countries are doing. For the sake of the common interests of the country, one must be prepared to sacrifice private gains, and unite in concerted action."

Count Okuma said he wished to lay emphasis on the truth that no social factor was more powerful than the press. Its leadership was indispensable in any concerted action. He concluded: "We want the assistance of the press in fulfilling our mission. We welcome straightforward criticism, and if we find our politics are disapproved by the general public, we cannot and will not remain in office."

The Doshikai party which holds the majority of the governmental forces in the house of representatives has adopted a resolution pledging its whole-hearted support to the new Okuma ministry. The resolution was proposed by Baron Kato, the ex-foreign minister, who is the leader of the party.

The Seiyukai, or opposition party, has pledged itself to hostility on the ground that the Okuma cabinet should be held responsible for the bribery scandal and on the ground that by the withdrawal of his resignation Count Okuma "has destroyed the fundamental principles of the constitution."

His Rest Was Broken.

O. D. Wright, Rosemont, Neb., writes: "For about six months I was bothered with shooting and continual pains in the region of my kidneys. My rest was broken nearly every night by frequent action of my kidneys. I was advised by my doctor to try Foley Kidney Pills and one 50 cent bottle made a well man of me. I can always recommend Foley Kidney Pills for I know they are good." This splendid remedy for backache, rheumatism, sore muscles and swollen joints contains no habit forming drugs. Sold everywhere.

"Kewpie," the New Bantam Champion.

Kid Williams, the young hurricane from Baltimore, staked his title in a ten round bout with "Kewpie" John Ertle in St. Paul Friday night, Sept. 10, and lost it within five rounds. So now an eighteen year old boy takes his place. A lot of alleged boxing experts—the same kind of experts who said Packey McFarland won in his ridiculous match with Mike Gibbons—experts who never even read the boxing rules, have insisted Ertle did not win fairly because he was on a foul.

In the fourth round Williams struck Ertle low and was warned by the referee, George Barton. In the fifth he fouled again and the courageous referee, who was not daunted by the glitter of the champion's crown, disqualified him and passed the crown on to the victor.

Johnny is eighteen years old and is just four feet eleven inches tall. He weighed 114 pounds for the Williams match, which is a pound or two more than his natural fighting weight, as he fought the majority of his bouts at from 110 to 112 pounds. Despite his light weight Ertle is powerfully built.

Ertle has been boxing for eighteen months. All told he has engaged in twenty-nine fights, scoring fourteen knockouts, which indicates that he is there with the kick. He claims victories over all the good boys in the middle west, including Frankie Izzo, Chick Hayes, Ruby Hirsch, Johnny Riche, Jimmy Walsh, Pal Moore, Johnny Selberg, Eddie Coulon, Kayo Krauss, Young Herzog, and Artie Armstrong. All those mentioned he fought since the first of the year. In one week last February he fought three men, beating Riche and Walsh and knocking out Izzo.

His manager, McNulty, says: "Ertle will defend his title after a short rest at 115 pounds ring-side. Have offers from all fight centres and also many proposals for theatrical engagements. Will soon go east on an extended tour."

The Ertle-Williams match established a new record for the size of purses offered in bantamweight no decision contests. Ertle had been challenging Williams for six months before the champion would agree to the bout, and then only when the management of the Capitol City A. C. met his demand for $4,000 guaranteed, win, lose, or draw, and Ertle consented to meet him at 115 pounds ring-side.
